Cataloguing Code Comparison for the IFLA Meeting of Experts on an International Cataloguing Code
July 2003

2. dio : Kataložni opis. - 1983.

Response submitted on [5 May 2003]

1. PARIS PRINCIPLES
1.1. Is your cataloguing code based on the Paris Principles for choice and form of headings and entry words?

Yes.

1.2. In what ways do you vary from the Paris Principles and why (to meet what needs)?
(Please address each of the following Paris Principles, indicating how your rules address each, e.g., cite your rule that corresponds or give the alternative that your rule provides. You only need to respond to those Paris principles where your rules differ.) Note: Paris Principle 1 is just the scope so is omitted here.

Paris Principle 2. Functions of the Catalogue: the catalogue should be an efficient instrument for ascertaining

2.1 whether the library contains a particular book specified by
   a) its author
   b) if the author is not named in the book, its title alone, or
   c) if author and title are inappropriate or insufficient for identification, a suitable substitute for the title; and 2.2 (a) which works by a particular author and
   (b) which editions of a particular work are in the library.

Yes. The functions of the catalogue are specified as (1) 2.1, (2) 2.2(a), (3) 2.2(b).
[PPIAK1, Introduction, p. 13]

Paris Principle 3. Structure of the Catalogue: To discharge these functions the catalogue should contain

3.1 at least one entry for each book catalogued, and
3.2 more than one entry relating to any book, whenever this is necessary in the interests of the user or because of the characteristics of the book – for example:
   3.21 when the author is known by more than one name or form of name, or
   3.22 when the author’s name has been ascertained but is not on the title-page of the book, or 3.23 when several authors or collaborators have shared in the creation of the book, or 3.24 when the book is attributed to various authors, or
3.25 when the book contains a work known by various titles.

Yes.

Paris Principle 4. Kinds of Entry: Entries may be of the following kinds: main entries, added entries and references.
4.1 One entry for each book – the main entry – must be a full entry, giving all the particulars necessary for identifying the book. Other entries may be either added entries (i.e. additional entries, based on the main entry and repeating under other headings information given in it) or references (which direct the reader to another place in the catalogue).

Yes. Additionally PPIAK specifies: different types of reference entries: see reference entry, see also reference entry and general explanatory entry; analytical entry; series record entry; authority record entry.

Paris Principle 5. Use of Multiple Entries: The two functions of the catalogue (see 2.1 and 2.2) are most effectively discharged by 5.1 an entry for each book under a heading derived from the author’s name or from the title as printed in the book, and
5.2 when variant forms of the author’s name or of the title occur, an entry for each book under a uniform heading, consisting of one particular form of the author’s name or one particular title, or, for books not identified by author or title, a uniform heading consisting of a suitable substitute for the title, and 5.3 appropriate added entries and/or references.

Yes.

Paris Principle 6. Function of Different Kinds of Entry
6.1 The main entry for works entered under author’s names should normally be made under a uniform heading. The main entry for works entered under title may be either under the title as printed in the book, with an added entry under a uniform title, or under a uniform title, with added entries or references under the other titles. The latter practice is recommended for the cataloguing of well-known works, especially those known by conventional titles (see 11.3)\(^2\)
2The principles established for treatment of works entered under title may be followed also in arranging entries under any particular author heading.

Yes. The main entry for works entered under title: first option - under the title as printed in the book, with an added entry under a uniform title. This principle is also followed in arranging entries under author heading.

6.2 Entries under other names or forms of name for the same author should normally take the form of references; but added entries may be used in special cases.\(^3\)
3e.g. when a particular group of works is associated with a particular name.
6.3 Entries under other titles for the same work should normally take the form of added entries; but references may be used when a reference can replace a number of added entries under one heading.\textsuperscript{4}
\textsuperscript{4}e.g. when a particular variant title has been used in a number of editions.

Yes.

6.4 Added entries (or in appropriate cases references) should also be made under the names of joint-authors, collaborators, etc., and under the titles of works having their main entry under an author’s name, when the title is an important alternative means of identification.

Yes. Added entries are made under the titles of works having their main entry under an author’s name when: there is no author's name stated in the publication but has been ascertained (PPIAK 5/4); when author is cited by initials and his/her real name is known (PPIAK 5/5); regardless of the fact that author's name is stated in the publication, whenever the title is important due to the type of material or users’ needs (PPIAK 5/6).

Paris Principle 7. Choice of Uniform Heading: The uniform heading should normally be the most frequently used name (or form of name) or title appearing in editions of the works catalogued or in references to them by accepted authorities.

Yes.

7.1 When editions have appeared in several languages, preference should in general be given to a heading based on editions in the original language; but if this language is not normally used in the catalogue, the heading may be derived from editions and references in one of the languages normally used there.

Yes.

Paris Principle 8. Single Personal Author:

PPIAK1 does not only prescribe the use of entries for single personal author but also provides definition of author and authorship and choice of the author (PPIAK 4/1 to 13).

8.1 The main entry for every edition of a work ascertained to be by a single personal author should be made under the author’s name. An added entry or reference should be made under the title or each edition in which the author’s name is not stated on the title-page.

Yes.
8.2 The uniform heading should be the name by which the author is most frequently identified in editions of his works\(^5\), in the fullest form commonly appearing there, except that another name or form of name should be taken as the uniform heading if it has become established in general usage either in references to the author in biographical, historical and literary works, or in relation to his public activities other than authorship;

Yes.

8.21 another name or form of name should be taken as the uniform heading if it has become established in general usage either in references to the author in biographical, historical and literary works, or in relation to his public activities other than authorship;

Yes.

8.22 a further identifying characteristic should be added, if necessary, to distinguish the author from others of the same name.

Yes.

Paris Principle 9. Entry under Corporate Bodies:

9.1 The main entry for a work should be made under the name of a corporate body (i.e. any institution, organized body or assembly of persons known by a corporate or collective name),

Yes.

9.11 when the work is by its nature necessarily the expression of the collective thought or activity of the corporate body,\(^6\) even if signed by a person in the capacity of an officer or servant of the corporate body, or

Yes for monograph, no for serial publications.

9.12 when the wording of the title or title-page, taken in conjunction with the nature of the work, clearly implies that the corporate body is collectively responsible for the content of the work.\(^7\)

Yes for monograph publications.

9.2 In other cases, when a corporate body has performed a function (such as that of an editor) subsidiary to the function of the author, an added entry should be made under the name of the corporate body.

Yes.
9.3 In doubtful cases, the main entry may be made either under the name of the corporate body or under the title or the name of the personal author, with an added entry in either case under the alternative not chosen for the main entry.

Yes.

9.4 The uniform heading for works entered under the name of a corporate body should be the name by which the body is most frequently identified in its publications, except that

Yes.

9.41 if variant forms of the name are frequently found in the publications, the uniform heading should be the official form of the name;

Yes.

9.42 if there are official names in several languages, the heading should be the name in whichever of these languages is best adapted to the needs of the users of the catalogue;

Yes. The heading is the name in the first official language used in the Library catalogue (PPIAK 135/2, 152).

9.43 if the corporate body is generally known by a conventional name, this conventional name (in one of the languages normally used in the catalogue) should be the uniform heading;

Yes.

9.44 for states and other territorial authorities the uniform heading should be the currently used form of the name of the territory concerned in the language best adapted to the needs of the users of the catalogue;

Yes.

9.45 if the corporate body has used in successive periods different names which cannot be regarded as minor variations of one name, the heading for each work should be the name at the time of its publication, the different names being connected by references8;

Yes.

8It is a permissible alternative, when it is certain that the successive names denote the same body, to assemble all the entries under the latest name with references from the other names.

No (e.g., PPIAK 157).
9.46 a further identifying characteristic should be added, if necessary, to distinguish the corporate body from others of the same name.

Yes.

9.5 Constitutions, laws and treaties, and certain other works having similar characteristics, should be entered under the name of the appropriate state or other territorial authority, with formal or conventional titles indicating the nature of the material. Added entries for the actual titles should be made as needed.

Yes.

9.6 A work of a corporate body which is subordinate to a superior body should be entered under the name of the subordinate body, except that

Yes.

9.61 if this name itself implies subordination or subordinate function, or is insufficient to identify the subordinate body, the heading should be the name of the subordinate body as a subheading;

Yes.

9.62 if the subordinate body is an administrative, judicial or legislative organ of a government, the heading should be the name of the appropriate state or other territorial authority with the name of the organ as a subheading.

Yes.

Paris Principle 10. Multiple Authorship: When two or more authors\(^9\) have shared in the creation of a work, \(^9\)In this section the word “author” is used to include a corporate body under whose name entries are made (see section 9).

10.1 if one author is represented in the book as the principal author, the others playing a subordinate or auxiliary role, the main entry for the work should be made under the name of the principal author;

Yes.

10.2 if no author is represented as the principal author, the main entry should be made under

10.21 the author named first on the title-page, if the number of authors is two or three, added entries being made under the name(s) of the other author(s);

Yes.

10.22 the title of the work, if the number of authors is more than three, added entries being made under the author named first in the book and under as many other authors as may appear necessary.
Yes.

10.3 Collections. The main entry for a collection consisting of independent works or parts of works by different authors should be made.

A large minority of the Conference did not accept the text of 10.3 but favoured the following alternative text [see 10.3 Minority text]

10.31 [Main text] under the title of the collection, if it has a collective title;

Yes.

10.3 [Minority text] The main entry for a collection consisting of independent works or parts of works by different authors should be made

10.31 when the collection has a collective title

10.311 under the name of the compiler (i.e. the person responsible for assembling from various sources the material in the collection) if he is named on the title-page;

10.312 under the title of the collection if the compiler is not named on the title-page;

10.32 [Main text] under the name of the author, or under the title, of the first work in the collection, if there is no collective title

Yes.

10.32 [Minority text] when the collection has no collective title, under the name of the author, or under the title, of the first work in the collection.

10.33 [Main text] in both cases, an added entry should be made under the name of the compiler (i.e. the person responsible for assembling from various sources the material in the collection) if known.

Only if mentioned on the title page.

10.33 [Minority text] An added entry should always be made under the name of the compiler (if known), when not chosen as heading for the main entry; and under the title, of the main entry is under the compiler.

10.34 [Main text] Exception: if the name of the compiler appears prominently on the title-page, the main entry may be made under the name of the compiler, with an added entry under the title.

No.

10.4 If successive parts of a work are attributed to different authors, the main entry should be made under the author of the first part.

Yes.

Paris Principle 11. Works entered under Title:

11.1 Works having their main entry under the title are

11.11 works whose authors have not been ascertained;

Yes.
11.12 works by more than three authors, none of whom is principal author (see 10.22);

Yes.

11.13 collections of independent works or parts of works, by different authors, published with a collective title;

Yes.

11.14 works (including serials and periodicals) known primarily or conventionally by title rather than by the name of the author.

PPIAK does not specify.

11.2 An added entry or reference should be made under the title for 11.21 anonymous editions of works whose authors have been ascertained;

Yes.

11.22 works having their main entry under the name of the author, when the title is an important alternative means of identification;

Yes.

11.23 works whose main entry is made under the name of a corporate body, but which have distinctive titles not including the name of the corporate body;

Yes.

11.24 collections whose main entry is made exceptionally under the compiler.

No.

11.3 The uniform heading (for main or added entries, see 6.1) for works entered under title should be the original title or the title most frequently used in editions of the work\(^1\), except that

\(^1\)Subject to Section 7.1

Yes.

11.31 if the work is generally known by a conventional title, the uniform heading should be the conventional title.

Yes.

11.4 The uniform heading for works of which successive parts or volumes bear different titles should be the title of the first part, unless the majority of the parts of volumes bear another title.
11.5 When a serial publication is issued successively under different titles, a main entry should be made under each title for the series of issues bearing that title, with indication of at least the immediately preceding and succeeding titles. For each such series of issues, an added entry may be made under one selected title. If however, the variations in title are only slight, the most frequently used form may be adopted as a uniform heading for all issues.

Yes. Preceding and succeeding titles are indicated by notes. Added entries are made only for variant forms of the title selected as the main entry.

11.6 Multi-lateral international treaties and conventions and certain other categories of publications issued with non-distinctive titles may be entered under a uniform conventional heading chosen to reflect the form of the work.

Yes.

Paris Principle 12. Entry Word for Personal Names: When the name of a personal author consists of several words, the choice of entry word is determined so far as possible by agreed usage in the country of which the author is a citizen, or, if this is not possible, by agreed usage in the language which he generally uses.

Yes.

1.3. Do your rules call for a main entry and added entries (per the Paris Principles) or what other device is used for arranging bibliographic records in your catalogue/bibliography/list?

PPIAK calls for a main entry and added entries

1.4. What is the most typical "main entry" for works according to your rules (e.g., author then title; first author/title; all authors/title; title only when there is no author; other?)

PPIAK does not define a compound (author/title) main entry as presumed by the question. The main entry is either author or title. Extension is made for uniform conventional heading.

2. ISBD (INTERNATIONAL STANDARD BIBLIOGRAPHIC DESCRIPTION)

2.1. Is your cataloguing code based on ISBD for rules for description?

PPIAK is based on the ISBD(M).

2.2. In what ways do you vary from the ISBDs and why (to meet what needs)? Please cite your rules that differ.
3. PERSONAL NAMES
3.A. PRINCIPLES
3.A.1. Do your rules have a goal to collocate the works of an author under the controlled name of the person?
Yes.

3.A.2. What other underlying principles guide your treatment of personal names?
Uniform heading for author's name; use of reference structure.

3.B. CHOICE:
3.B.1. Which name used by a person is the preferred name for your rules?
The name which (1) most frequently appears in editions of author's works, and (2) the name that has been established in general usage in references and biographical works.

3.C. STRUCTURE
3.C.1. Do you follow the IFLA Names of Persons when formulating the structure of a personal name?
Yes.

3.C.2. What is the structure of personal names (headings and references) in your code?
The structure follows the original structure of names as formulated in IFLA Names of Persons.

3.C.3. What are the guiding principles for structuring names in your code?
Original forms of authors' names.

3.D. PSEUDONYMS
3.D.1. Do your rules provide for the identification of "bibliographic identities" for the personas used by a person or group of persons?
Yes.

3.D.2. How are pseudonyms treated (as references to a real name, as references to a predominantly used name, etc.)?
As uniform heading and as references depending on author's use of the pseudonym in published works and by which s/he is generally known (PPIAK 96, 111/6).

3.E. DIFFERENTIATING
3.E.1. Do your rules differentiate the names of persons so each has a unique authorized form as heading?

Yes.

3.E.2. What elements are used to distinguish one name from another that is similar?

Elements are used in the following order: profession, biographical elements (Jr., Sr.), dates (PPIAK 101).

3.E.3. When do you add these elements?

Only when the names are the same.

3.E.4. Which elements do you add to the heading and which do you include in an authority record for that person?

Additions to name are the same elements in authority and bibliographic records.

3.F. AUTHORITY CONTROL
3.F.1. Do your rules call for the creation and maintenance of an authority file for controlling the forms of personal names used as headings and references in your catalogs and national bibliographies?

Yes.

3.F.2. Do you provide links between names of individuals that are part of groups and the corporate name for the group? If so, in what situations?

No.

4. CORPORATE NAMES
4.1. What entities do your rules consider as corporate bodies? (e.g., ships, spacecraft, government or private agencies, institutions, corporations, societies, expeditions, performing groups, named meetings and conferences, festivals, exhibitions, etc.)

All, except for ships and space crafts.

4.A. PRINCIPLES
4.A.1. Do your rules have a goal to collocate the works of a corporate body under the controlled name of the corporate body?

Yes.

4.A.2. What other underlying principles guide your treatment of corporate body names?

Use of uniform heading and reference structure.
4.A.3. Are there limits on what sub-bodies are considered for naming?

Yes.

4.B. CHOICE
4.B.1. Which name used by a corporate body is the preferred name for your rules?

The name as it appears in the publication.

4.B.2. How are sub-bodies treated (are they established under their own name or subordinately under the name of a higher level body in the corporate hierarchy?)

Both (PPIAK 151).

4.C. STRUCTURE
4.C.1. Do you follow the IFLA Form and Structure of Corporate Headings when formulating the structure of a corporate body’s name?

Yes.

4.C.2. What is the structure of corporate body names in your code?

The structure follows the structure of the corporate body name as defined by FSCH.

4.C.3. What are the guiding principles for the structure of corporate body names in your code?

Uniform headings for the same name and reference see and see also (the change of name) structure.

4.C.4. What elements are used to distinguish one name from another that is similar?

Place (jurisdiction), date (i.e., for conferences and political/territorial entities).

4.C.5. When do you add these distinguishing elements?

As required by the type of heading (i.e., conferences) or to distinguish between different headings (i.e., territorial entity).

4.C.6. What elements are used to identify corporate bodies in headings?

(1) name and subordinate name, place (jurisdiction); (2) conferences etc.: name, number, date, place.

4.C.7. What elements do you include in authority records to identify the corporate body?
Additions to name are the same elements in authority and bibliographic records.

4.D. AUTHORITY CONTROL
4.D.1. Do your rules call for the creation and maintenance of an authority file for controlling the forms of corporate bodies' names used as headings and references in your catalogs and national bibliographies.

Yes.

5. UNIFORM TITLES (work-level or expression-level citations) (main and added entries)
5.1. Do your rules consider uniform titles for work beyond anonymous classics? (If so, please describe when they are used.)

Yes: translations of anonymous works, adaptations, parodies, travesties, imitations, etc. (PPIAK 17, 31), commentaries (PPIAK 37/1, 37/3, 73).

5.A. PRINCIPLES
5.A.1. Do your rules have a goal to identify and collocate works and/or expressions through the use of uniform titles for the names of the works/expressions? [NOTE: The terms work, expression, manifestation, and item are from the IFLA FRBR report, available at: the IFLA Publications Web site, under the Saur publications; UBCIM Publications - New Series v. 19 http://www.ifla.org/V/saur.htm (available as a pdf file, 559K)]

Yes.

5.A.2. Is the use of uniform titles mandatory, or only in certain situations, or never used? (Please explain)

Mandatory in situations described by PPIAK (PPIAK 17, 31). (See 5.1)

5.B. CHOICE
5.B.1. Which name used for a work and expression is the preferred name for your rules? (e.g., for a work-level uniform title, what is the preferred source; what is the source for an expression-level uniform title – is it the “best known” or most frequently used or other?)

The preferred name is: (1) the original title of the work, i.e. the title under which the first edition of that work was published (17/1); or (2) (for older works), the title under which that work is usually mentioned in the literature (which also means that it is the most frequently used name) (PPIAK 17/4).

5.C. STRUCTURE
5.C.1. What elements comprise your uniform titles?
Croatia: PPIAK

Original or conventional title; name or designation of part; church jurisdiction, order or religious community; language of translation;

5.C.2. Do you use author/title uniform titles or other work-level or expression-level uniform titles to uniquely identify works and expressions?

Work-level and/or expression-level uniform title.

5.D. AUTHORITY CONTROL
5.D.1. Do your rules call for the creation and maintenance of an authority file for controlling the forms of uniform titles used as headings and references in your catalogs and national bibliographies?

Yes.

6. GMDs (GENERAL MATERIAL DESIGNATORS)
6.1. Do your rules call for using GMDs in area 1 of the ISBD areas of description?

No, due to the fact that ISBDs treat GMD as an optional element [PPIAK2, Introduction, p. 10]

6.2. If so, what list of terms do you follow (please provide the list)?

6.3. Have you considered alternatives to GMDs that would clarify the element as being a mode of expression versus a form of manifestations? If so, please explain.

Yes, the alternative to GMD in area 1 can be its extended use in Area 3, Material (or Type of Publication) Area. Arguments to be considered are: (1) Area 3 is suitable for recording a combination of expression and form of manifestation (e.g., map) information at a general level that can be vocabulary controlled. The mixture of expression and manifestation information at this level we do not consider to be contrary to FRBR model (i.e. Area 1 is a mixture of work, expression and manifestation information). (2) In the future there will be even more hybrid expressions and forms of manifestations that need to be specified for a user in a comprehensive way. (3) This is seen as a more complete information for the user at one place.

However, we do not object to the use of GMD in Area 1.

6.4. Do you use a GMD as an identifying element in a uniform title?

No. We see uniform title as containing work and expression information.

6.5. For the future, what are your views about using the GMD in area 1 of description? Or where else does it "belong" in a bibliographic record?

See 6.3.
7. SERIALITY

7.1. Do your rules cover "continuing resources" in the current ISBD(CR) parlance?

PPIAK covers serials and printed loose-leaf publications (integrating resources): for serials only the choice and form of headings, for loose leafs choice and form of headings (PPIAK 58-68) and description.

7.2. How is the topic of seriality as a characteristic of a publication (mode of issuance) treated in your rules?

PPIAK mentions seriality only in the extended definition of periodical (PPIAK 1, Appendix IV) which, actually, defines the serial publication in present-day terms. Definition states that such publication, published in printed form or not, is issued in successive parts and intended to be continued indefinitely.

7.A. PRINCIPLES:
7.A.1. What principles guide the decision on when to make a new record for a continuing resource (serial or integrating resource) as the various identifying elements change over time?

A new record is required in cases of major changes in title proper of serials (61). A new record also is required when the title proper is a generic term and the issuing body changes its name (PPIAK 63/2).

7.B. CHOICE
7.B.1. What do your rules require for the name (title or author/title) given to a continuing resource?

The main entry for serial is title proper (PPIAK 58/1). The exceptions are official serial publications (PPIAK 77) and serials to which corporate authorship rules are applied (PPIAK 9).

8. MULTIPART STRUCTURES
8.A. COMPONENTS VERSUS AGGREGATES
8.A.1. Do your rules prescribe the cataloging treatment for collections (or aggregates) of works (not including serials)? (Please describe)

Yes, as finite or continuing series.

8.A.2. Do your rules prescribe the cataloguing treatment for works that consist of components of other works? (Please describe, e.g., do your rules require separate bibliographic records for every physical component; do your rules allow optional ways to catalog such materials, such as all on a single record with notes and added entries for the individual works within the whole; other?)
Yes. All on a single record with data in Area 1 or in notes and analytical entries for the individual works.

8.A.3. What devices are used to link the parts with the whole and vice versa? (E.g., series statements, notes, added entries for the uniform titles of the main work, contents notes for the parts, etc.)

Content notes for parts in the main entry record and analytical entries for the parts.

8.B. PRINCIPLES
8.B.1. Do your rules have a goal to describe each work within each publication (relates to 8.A.2 above), or is that decision left to the cataloguer/cataloguing agency?

Rules have a goal to describe each work within each publication.

8.B.2. If there are such rules or principles, for what materials do they apply?

PPIAK deals only with printed text. However, its principles can be (basically) applied to other types of material.

8.C. WORK-LEVEL
8.C.1. What options do your rules provide for describing the individual works within multi-volume publications that contain multiple works?

For multi-volume publications PPIAK prescribes one-level (if description information is the same for all volumes, i.e. ISBD Areas 1, 2, 4 and 6) or multi-level description regardless of the number of individual works published in it. The later are treated according to the rules prescribed for the individual works by one or more authors and anonymous works (see 8.A.2). Thus, an individual work published in the Vol. 2 of a multi-volume publication will be described on the second level of the bibliographic description (in Area 1 or in a note depending on the bibliographic conditions) with analytical entry referencing to the second level (Vol. 2).

8.D. EXPRESSION-LEVEL
8.D.1. How do your rules handle multiple expressions of the same work? (e.g., one record for every expression, separate records for separate editions and translations, a single record for all expressions, etc.)

Separate record for separate editions and translations.

8.D.2. When do your rules instruct a cataloger to make a new or separate bibliographic record when there is change in content (i.e., what sorts of changes to content require a new bibliographic description)?

PPIAK prescribes a new bibliographic record in the case of adaptations, new editions, travesties, etc. (see also 5.1).
8.E. MANIFESTATION-LEVEL
8.E.1. How do your rules instruct catalogers to handle multiple manifestations of the same expression of a work? (i.e. different physical formats for the same content) (Please indicate if there are multiple options, such as single record, multiple records, linking devices if multiple records are used, etc.)

Multiple records for multiple manifestations of the same expression of a work. PPIAK does not provide specific rules for the treatment of different physical formats (multiple manifestations of the same expression) for the same content

9. What else do we want to know and compare to see if we can work towards an international code? (Please provide any additional issues or comments here.)
