

Treasurer's Report
Document Delivery & Resource Sharing Standing Committee
International Federation of Library Associations
Singapore
17 August 2013

Changes implemented by IFLA in the past 18 months have resulted in the Standing Committee no longer having its own bank account. IFLA no longer sends an annual allocation (most recently 1,000 €) to the Committee, but rather keeps the funds in The Hague, preferring to do reimbursement for expenses, for example for a speaker or project. The Standing Committee's bank account in Chicago was closed out on September 26, 2012. The remaining funds, $556.97, were sent back to IFLA per their instructions.

Further, since IFLA does not recognize Treasurer as an officer, the position will now be combined with Secretary. Further money reports will be done by the SC's Secretary/Treasurer. This will no doubt include financial information from ILDS 2013 in Beijing.

Respectfully,

Robert A. Seal
(former) Treasurer
