

General Assembly 2020, The Hague, Netherlands

Agenda item 12 - Motions and Resolutions

12.1 Motion to approve the holding of the next General Assembly in August 2021 (Art. 8 of the Statutes refers)

Motivation:

The legislation of the Netherlands, as stated in the Dutch Civil Code, Part 2, Sections 48 and 49, requires that the Governing Board must submit an annual report and annual financial statements to the General Assembly within six months of the end of the financial year, unless the General Assembly has extended this period. The period may be extended on account of special circumstances for no more than five months. This is reflected in Article 8.2 of the amended Statutes.

IFLA's financial year ends on 31 December, and its General Assembly (formerly Council) meets during the Congress, normally in August, more than six months later. The General Assembly must therefore authorize the Governing Board to present the annual report and financial statements at the next Congress. IFLA's lawyers advise that this authorization has to be given every year. A blanket authorization is not permissible.

Motion:

to authorize the Governing Board to convene the General Assembly to coincide with the next IFLA World Library and Information Congress which shall take place in August 2021. In the case of an unavoidable delay the General Assembly may be convened at a later date, but no later than 30 November 2021.

12.2 Motion to approve amendments to Articles 12 and 17 of the current Statutes (and re-numbering elsewhere where needed).

Motivation:

The Current Situation

IFLA's Statutes, in articles 12 and 17, set out rules on how major decisions are taken, in particular around changing the Statutes themselves. However, it contains two major flaws:

Firstly, the current procedure takes at least six months to complete. To make a revision to the Statutes there has to be:

- a) a consultative ballot of all members (for which no less than eight weeks must be given), followed by;
- b) the issuing of a convening notice with the proposed changes to the statutes at least three months ahead of a General Assembly.

Given the time required for preparing mailings and counting votes, this means that any process to change the Statutes currently needs to start six months or more before a General Assembly.

Whilst the consultative ballot gives all Members the opportunity to express their views, the General Assembly is only required to take notice of – but not necessarily follow – the result of the Members' ballot. This creates the possibility for the decision of a ballot of all members to be overturned by those present or represented at the General Assembly, held during the IFLA Congress. As IFLA increases its membership – in particular in parts of the world where it may be difficult to attend the General Assembly every year – this rule risks becoming increasingly outdated.

Proposed Changes to the Procedure for Amending the Statutes

To address this situation, the Governing Board is recommending amendments to Articles 12 and 17 of the current Statutes (and re-numbering elsewhere where needed). These Articles explain how IFLA can make amendments to the Statutes themselves and decide on other major issues.

The changes aim to make for a simpler and more inclusive process of decision-making by Members by:

- Allowing a resolution on important issues to be decided by either a meeting of the General Assembly or a ballot of all Members
- Ensuring there is a single timeframe for decisions on all resolutions by Members whether at a General Assembly or by a ballot

These changes, if accepted, will mean that the process of making amendments will be far quicker, and that on crucial decisions, the voices of all Members can genuinely be heard, regardless of their ability to attend a General Assembly or identify a representative. A ballot of members held in February 2020 found 98% in favour of these changes.

Motion:

To amend Article 12 of the IFLA Statutes as detailed in Appendix 1

To amend Article 17 of the IFLA Statutes as detailed in Appendix 1

12.3 Motion to propose to the Governing Board to investigate alternative and sustainable ways to conduct future WLIC and arrange WLIC as a global event only every third year.

Motivation:

A more sustainable WLIC

The World Library and Information Congress, WLIC, is of vital importance to the global library community. Librarians and information specialists from all over the world interact to develop library services and advocacy. Unfortunately, the annual WLIC also generates carbon pollution from the long distant flying and the expensive travelling unables many librarians in the world to participate. IFLA is a strong advocate for the Agenda 2030, so it would be appropriate for its own congress to be organised as a sustainable event.

Some associations have gone far to have sustainable international conferences, implementing a multi-location approach in which participants travel to a regional hub closer to home. For example, the 15th International Conference on Music Perception and Cognition in 2018 was organised on several locations on four continents. Each hub held its own keynote speakers and panel sessions. But the hubs also connected with each other for virtual panel sessions and discussions. Conference organizers reported that under this semi-virtual approach, the number of countries represented increased by 50% and per capita carbon pollution was reduced 70% compared to a traditional international conference.

Motion:

We propose to the Governing Board to investigate alternative and sustainable ways to conduct future WLIC and arrange WLIC as a global event only every third year.
