INTERNATIONAL CALENDAR
We are pleased to share with our readers this edition of the IFLA/LAC Newsletter containing a rich selection of regional information and news from July to December 2012.

Heading the list of news is the visit of IFLA President, Ingrid Parent, to Argentina and Chile, where she toured the Chilean Librarian College, the Public Library of Santiago and the National Library of Chile. In Argentina, she attended the IFFRO World Congress 2012, and meetings with the heads of the Nation Congress Library, the Teachers National Library and the National Library.

We are happy to announce the next Presidential Meeting shall be hosted by the National Autonomus University of México (UNAM). The guiding topic shall be Our Digital Futures. The meeting shall also serve to make progress on the IFLA Trends Report regarding Information Access in the Global Digital Environment / Information Society. The report shall be presented at the World Library and Information Congress to be held in Singapore on August 17-23, 2013.

We invite all of you to participate and vote in the upcoming elections for President, and members of the Governing Board and the Standing Committees Sections. It has been included links where further details can be accessed.

This number also includes information on the Semillas para el Desarrollo (Seeds for Development) campaign, aimed at setting up libraries in marginal areas of Peru while strengthening existing libraries. An overview of regional events and news is also provided herein.

With the year drawing to a close, I would like to thank everyone who has contributed with their efforts and enthusiasm to IFLA Latin America and the Caribbean activities.

Close collaboration between libraries, information professionals, library associations and Standing Committee members constitutes the foundation for achieving our goal of building egalitarian conditions of access to library services and information.

IFLA Latin America and Caribbean

Libraries serve all without judgment, prejudice or bias. By democratizing access to information, libraries empower individuals to learn freely, improve their lives and create knowledge.

Libraries transform lives and in doing so transform society. Libraries are community repositories, gathering places, digital depositories, interactive learning centers, research catalysts, and much more.

By harnessing the power and potential of today’s rapidly changing technologies, libraries play an essential role for people who wish to access information in any form.

To remain relevant new means of enhancing the user experience and services must be implemented continuously.
Under the theme “Our Digital Future” this conference will have prominent and inspiring speakers to address current issues on access to information for libraries concerning access for research and education, access to enhance reading, access for the cultural memory, and copyright exceptions and limitations to benefit access.

The Meeting will also contribute to the development of the IFLA Trend Report into access to digital information in the Global Digital Environment / Information Society in which libraries will operate, to be launched at the IFLA World Library and Information Congress in Singapore 17-23 August, 2013.

The audience is open for anyone who is interested. Also invited are stakeholders, politicians and decision-makers from the region, political institutions, UN bodies, international NGOs, private sector and industry, library organizations and the press.

World Library and Information Congress: Lyon, France, 2014

During the Closing Session in Helsinki Finland on 16 August, IFLA President Ingrid Parent officially announced the host location for the 2014 World Library and Information Congress: Lyon, France.

After the announcement, Hubert Julien-Laferriere, Vice-président of Le Grand Lyon, told delegates:

“This is first an honor, because the World congress of IFLA is in our view the meeting point of all the actors of knowledge, encompassing public libraries as well as academic networks; and is, for a few days, a world summit for sharing and disseminating knowledge.

Then we are thankful because Lyon is acknowledged as one of the most dynamic cultural metropolis in Europe, due to its strong sponsorship of culture and arts - and indeed, culture and education are the two top items in the budget of our city. [...] The cultural riches of our city, and of its areas of knowledge, must be in our view shared by all and easily accessible to all. In this sense, we want to position the development of our city as the one of a city of knowledge, and we want this 2014 World Congress of IFLA in Lyon to be a success in this very perspective. “

Pascal Sanz, President Comité français international bibliothèques et documentation, added to the invitation:

“The French International Committee for Libraries and Documentation (Comité français international bibliothèques et documentation, or Cfïbd) took the initiative, almost two years ago, to venture to phrasing and bearing the bid of France and of the City of Lyon, to host the IFLA Congress in 2014.

This initiative, since its inception, involved all the main library associations and major library institutions in our country.

As a result, you can imagine our happiness that Lyon has now been chosen for 2014. And all of us, with the City of Lyon, we’ll stake all of our enthusiasm, of our working capacity, and of our imagination, to make sure you live one of the most successful and friendly congresses in 2014.

On behalf of Mr Bruno Racine, President of the French National Library, and co-chair the French National Committee, who was not able to join this Closing session and on behalf of all of France’s librarians and of their associations, I wish you in turn a warm welcome to France and to Lyon in 2014.”

Elections for President-elect and members of the IFLA Governing Board

IFLA calls upon its members and affiliates to participate and vote in the election for President-elect and members of the IFLA Governing Board.

The President-elect serves in that role for two years, followed by two years as President. The term of office, as President-elect, provides an opportunity to identify priorities to be pursued on assuming the presidency. The President-elect works closely with the President and Secretary General and deputises for the President as required, for example, to represent the Federation or chair meetings.

The IFLA Governing Board is responsible for the strategic and professional direction of the Federation, within guidelines approved by the General Assembly (IFLA Statutes Articles 13 and 14). It establishes priorities, has oversight of IFLA’s activities and approves budgets and the annual accounts. It is focused on strategic issues and provides guidance to the President, Secretary General and other officers.

The elected members of the Governing Board serve for an initial term of two years and may stand for a further consecutive term of two years.

Being a member of the Governing Board can be time-consuming and challenging work as the Board strives to advance the cause of library and information services and to improve the practice of the profession. It is also rewarding, providing the stimulating opportunity to work with colleagues from different types of library and information environments and from different cultures.

Nominations must reach IFLA Headquarters ON or BEFORE Wednesday, 6 February 2013. No late nominations will be accepted. To avoid disappointment please do no wait until the last day.

Consult the call for nominations at: http://www.ifla.org/news/call-for-nominations-for-president-elect-and-members-of-the-governing-board-of-ifla-0

Elections for members of the Standing Committees of the IFLA sections

IFLA urges its members and affiliates to participate and vote in the election process to appoint members to the IFLA Standing Committees.

IFLA’s professional programme consists mainly of Sections. Each Section is governed by a democratically elected Standing Committee consisting of professionals with expertise and an interest in the field of the Section. Serving on a Standing Committee provides opportunities for professional development, networking with colleagues from many different countries and helping to advance the profession in specific areas of practice.

Who may be nominated?
Candidates should:
➢ have appropriate knowledge and experience to contribute to the Section’s work
➢ be keen to be involved in IFLA
➢ have a working knowledge of at least one of the working languages of IFLA (Arabic, Chinese, English, French, German, Russian and Spanish). Since the business meetings of IFLA are generally conducted in English, reasonable fluency in this language is necessary to be able to fully participate as a Standing Committee member
➢ have a reasonable expectation of support to be able to participate in the work of the Standing Committees at no expense to IFLA. Standing Committees meet on the first day of the annual IFLA World Library and Information Congress and possibly a second meeting will take place during the Congress week. Standing Committee members will be expected to attend 5 Congresses, beginning in 2013 (Singapore) to and including 2017 (location to be determined). Congresses usually take place in August each year. In between these meetings, most business is conducted electronically. Some Standing Committees hold midyear meetings by agreement of the Committee
➢ contribute actively to ideas for projects and conference programme meetings
➢ join in the work of the Section, for example, by undertaking projects, organising workshops, preparing translations, etc.
➢ recruit new Members to the Section and to IFLA
➢ respond to requests from IFLA HQ for advice
➢ assist in disseminating information about Section activities
➢ help with the translation of documents where appropriate
➢ encourage participation in the Section by people in different parts of the world, by identifying potential new candidates and corresponding members
➢ assist in the allocation of “portfolios” to individuals serving on the committee (for example, editing the newsletter, acting as information coordinator, Section membership recruitment, organising translations, preparing workshops, etc.)
➢ act with respect, trust, confidentiality and transparency within the Committee and recognise the need to protect personal and privileged information. Standing Committee members declare any conflicts of interest and abstain from consideration of committee matters in which they have an interest.

You may nominate yourself, a member of your staff or a person in another organisation or another country who is known to have the required qualifications and interest in serving.

The completed nominations must reach IFLA Headquarters ON or BEFORE 9 February 2011. No late nominations can be accepted. To avoid disappointment please do not wait until the last moment but start the process as early as possible.

IFLA International Leaders Programme: Associates announced

The selection committee for the IFLA International Leaders Programme is delighted to announce the Associates selected to participate from 2012-2014. The Programme is a two-year IFLA strategic Key Initiative designed to increase the cohort of leaders who can effectively represent the wider library sector in the international arena, and to develop leaders within IFLA.

The Associates represent every major library sector and geographic region, and bring a range of international experiences to the projects that Associates will be attached to during the Programme.

The Associates are:

Margaret Allen (Australia)
CEO and State Librarian, State Library of Western Australia; and immediate past-President of the Australian Library and Information Association

Atarino Helieisar (Federated States of Micronesia)
Chief Law Librarian, Supreme Court; and President of the Pacific Islands Association of Libraries, Archives, and Museums (PI-ALA)

Sarah Kaddu (Uganda)
Team Leader, World Digital Library project, National Library of Uganda; and Secretary General of the Uganda Library & Information Association (ULIA)

Jérémy Lachal (France)
Executive Director, Libraries Without Borders (Bibliothèques Sans Frontières); and trainer on projects for International Francophone Association of Librarians and Documentalists (AIFBD)

Zola Maddison (USA)
Program Coordinator, WebJunction; active member of the American Library Association’s International Relations Round Table, and past ALA Emerging Leader

Antonio Marquez Santos (Philippines)
Director, National Library of the Philippines, and Executive Committee member of the Congress of Southeast Asian Librarians (CONSAL)

Victoria Okojie (Nigeria)
Registrar/CEO, Librarians’ Registration Council of Nigeria; past-President Nigerian Library Association, and current Chair of the IFLA Africa section

Kgomotso Radijeng (Botswana)
Resource Centre Coordinator, Botswana National Productivity Centre; convenor of the 2010 Standing Conference of Eastern, Central and South Africa Library and Infor-
The Associates began their participation in the programme at the IFLA Congress in Helsinki. During the Congress, the Leaders Programme Associates participated in eight days of activities including: seminar and workshop sessions on issues with a global impact led by leaders in the sector and related fields; participation in specified business meetings; attendance at specified professional programme sessions; working within groups to prepare presentations or reports; and liaison with IFLA Governing Board members.

BSLA sessions in Helsinki share results, impact from the first two years of the programme

Representatives from all six of the first country projects as part of the Building Strong Library Associations (BSLA) programme presented their results and impact following the first two years of the programme at a special session at the IFLA Conference in Helsinki in August 2012. A second session provided an introduction to ALP and BSLA, and shared some of the other ways BSLA has been implemented around the world including video conferences, regional train the trainer workshops, additional country projects in Nepal, and a workshop for association presidents in Kenya.

A news article in IFLA Express summarised the key points of the BSLA results and stories session on Tuesday August 14, noting “After just a few years, the first six countries are underway with strong progress towards their goals; it is clear that each association has the knowledge and experience of the programme to carry it forward within their country and region. Since 2010, new library associations in other countries as well have implemented the BSLA methodology on their own needs, such as Nepal, Argentina, Kazakhstan, Madagascar, Russia, Samoa, countries in South Eastern Europe and Vietnam.”

Multilingualism Programme

A multilingual IFLA website opens windows to the world

Introduction

As a worldwide organisation IFLA deals with many and large cultural differences, most prominently languages. The 7 IFLA languages are: Arabic, Chinese, English, French, German, Russian, Spanish. IFLA language centres, IFLA regional offices and individual IFLA members take care of translating much of IFLA’s documentation and web contents. The current IFLA website is available in English. Having the content of IFLA’s website available in as many languages as possible, helps to reduce the language barriers and gaps in relation to IFLA’s work. The availability of electronic translation tools would improve IFLA’s multilingualism a great deal.

Composition

At its August 2011 Meeting the IFLA Governing Board set up a Working Group to enhance IFLA’s multilingualism. The Multilingualism Working Group consists of:

Chair: Barbara Lison, Germany
Ingrid Bon, Netherlands
Genevieve Clavel, Switzerland
Felipe Martinez, Mexico
Tone Moseid, Norway
Pascal Sanz, France (Governing Board Member 2007-2011)
Simon Lemstra, IFLA HQ Web & IT Manager

Mandate

➢ Develop the structure of the IFLA website to allow for all of the non-English IFLA working languages: Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Russian and Spanish and use of electronic translation tools;
➢ Investigate opportunities for increasing translations of key IFLA documents and simultaneous interpretation at the IFLA Congress in all IFLA languages;
➢ Revise the IFLA translation structure to develop a proper translation workflow for continuing maintenance of the multilingual IFLA website.

Key Priorities 2012

➢ To have key parts of the IFLA website available in French and Spanish, up and running in parallel with the English website, by the beginning of December 2012.
➢ To have key parts of the IFLA website available in Arabic, Chinese, German and...
Russian, up and running in parallel with the English website, during 2013 and 2014.
➢ To have the first implementation steps of a reviewed model for Simultaneous Interpretation in place at the 2013 IFLA Congress.

Some of the additional topics the Multilingualism Working Group is planning to deal with are:
➢ Advice on the multilingual approach in the IFLA Publishing Programme that is currently under revision;
➢ Development of a translation policy to handle translations in the Professional Programme
➢ Advice on multilingualism in the IFLA discussion lists

The Working Group on Multilingualism meets 3 times per year during the Governing Board weeks and regularly through Skype for teleconferences.

Havana Declaration of the IFLA Information Literacy Section

FIFTEEN INFORMATION LITERACY ACTIONS...... for collaborative work on generation of networks for development of information literacy in Ibero-American countries
(Latin America, Spain and Portugal)

Over the last ten years, in the framework of different events and contexts, different declarations on information competence education, also known as information literacy or “IL-INFOLIT” have been submitted in relation to other literacies and skills training.

This declaration aims to combine conceptual, philosophical and investigative main aspects of those previous declarations (Ciudad Juárez, 1997-1999-2002; Prague, 2003; Alexandria, 2005; Toledo, 2006; Lima, 2009; Paramillo, 2010; Murcia, 2010; Maceió, 2011; Fez, 2011), and prescribe several commitments to implement practical and concrete actions from the perspective of collaborative work and the evolution of networks for the increase of the information literacy in our contexts.

This event that has created the opportunity to gather different professionals, libraries, educational institutions and member organizations belonging to different Ibero-American countries and understand their vision, learned lessons and perspectives on the IL-INFOLIT topic.

Therefore, we propose and commit ourselves to work in different ways and according to our possibilities and scope for these 15 actions.

Code of Ethics for Librarians and Other Information Workers

In August, during the World Library and Information Congress 2012 at Helsinki, Committee on Freedom of Access to Information and Freedom of Expression (FAIFE) presented the IFLA Code of Ethics for Librarians and other Information Workers.

“Librarians all over the world are well aware of their profession’s ethical implications. In more than 60 countries library associations have developed and approved a national code of ethics for librarians. But a similar document on an international level adopted by IFLA didn’t exist until 2012.

During 2010 and 2012 a working group from FAIFE drafted and consulted extensively on a draft international code of ethics for librarians and other information workers. Hundreds of comments from IFLA Members and Non-Members were received to the draft, and a final version was prepared for the endorsement by the IFLA Governing Board. The “IFLA Code of Ethics for Librarians and Other Information Workers” was approved endorsed in August 2012.

The Code is presented in two versions: a long, comprehensive version, and a shorter version for quick reference. These two versions may be accessed at:

The Road to Information Literacy: Librarians as facilitators of learning
Edited by: Roisin Gwyer, Ruth Stubbings & Graham Walton
Berlin / Munich: De Gruyter Saur, 2012
ISBN 978-3-11-028084-5
(IFLA Publications; Nr 157)

Information literacy is increasingly being recognised as a necessary skill for life, work and citizenship - as well as for academic study - for all of us living in today's information society. In August 2012 a large number of librarians from across the world gathered to discuss this topic through workshops, presentations, networking and posters with an emphasis on how we develop our workforces to facilitate information literacy development. This volume includes 23 papers from a variety of countries and sectors.

IFLA President Ingrid Parent visits Chile and Argentina

IFLA President visits el Colegio de Bibliotecarios de (Chilean College of Librarians) (CBC)

Last October 22, IFLA President Ingrid Parent met with the President of the Colegio de Bibliotecarios de Chile, CNC (Chilean College of Librarians), Gabriela Pradenas, and several of her close colleagues to discuss the participation of CBC in the BSLA programme and other efforts to spur the participation of Latin American colleges and associations. The Presidents also discussed the possibility of developing jointly with CBS IFLA training programmes in Chile.

CBC will study the possibility of developing projects and activities that allow to collect funds. These activities may include low-cost workshops for providing training and ongoing education for the librarian community. These activities would enjoy the participation of IFLA advisors.

The IFLA President stated that in early 2013 it is expected to include Spanish language versions of IFLA official communications in its website for improving information coverage.

The General Council thanks Consuelo Salas Lamadrid, Josefina Reyes Muñoz and Claudia Cuevas Saavedra for their collaboration and contributions to the matters discussed in this key meeting with the current IFLA president.

IFLA President acquainted about the Chilean Public Libraries job

In her brief visit to Chile, IFLA President-Ingrid Parent met with Gonzalo Oyarzún, Associate Director of the National Public Library System (SNBP), who explained the everyday workings of public libraries in Chile.

Despite her packed agenda, Dr. Parent made a special effort to include public libraries in her schedule. In a meeting lasting nearly three hours, Dr. Parent learned about how Chilean public libraries operate and was able to witness these operations when she visited the Santiago Public Library in the company of its head, Marcela Valdés.

“The IFLA President’s visit is a great honor for all of us, because it allows us to show her our reality and share ideas with regard to the route we are taking to promote reading and writing. Likewise, we have been able to show her that Chilean public libraries, such as the Santiago Public Library, are places where multiple facets of our culture coincide,” explained Oyarzún.

In addition to talks with the Minister of Education, in the company of Luis Villaroel, the IFLA president took a guided tour of the National Library with Head Librarian Ana Tironi serving as guide.

IFLA President visits Argentina

After her visit to Chile, IFLA President Ingrid Parent attended the IFFRO 2012 World Congress in Buenos Aires, Argentina. During her stay, she also toured the National Library of Congress (BCN), the National Teachers Library (BNM) and the Argentina National Library.
IFLA President visits National Library of Congress

On October 26, IFLA President Ingrid Parent visited the National Congress Library where she gave a conference on information access. Dr. Parent was received by the Library Head, Alejandro Santa, who accompanied her on a tour to the Palace of Congress of the Nation, the reserve room, the public room, the administrative offices and the library’s new cultural space equipped with microfilm and digitization capacity.

“The visit of the IFLA President fits in with the policy of developing the Congress Library for extending its role and having an outstanding participation within Latin America and the international context,” said Santa.

IFLA is an international organization devoted to provide librarians around the world a forum for exchanging of ideas and promoting cooperation and research for the development of all those areas associated with library activities and Library Science.

IFLA President Ingrid Parent visits the Teachers National Library

On October 26, we enjoyed the visit of IFLA President, Ingrid Parent, who took a guided tour for diverse areas of the Biblioteca Nacional de Maestros, BNM (Teachers National Library), afterwards meeting with its Director and several of the institution’s coordinators.

By invitation from the Library director, the President of the Asociación de Bibliotecarios Graduados de la República Argentina, ABGRA (Association of Graduate Librarians of the Republic of Argentina, Gloria Priori, was also in attendance.

Library Director, Graciela Perrone, spoke about diverse activities being carried out by BNM with regard to en situ and virtual services. She also addressed activities entailed in coordination of federal networks.

A report on public policy was read, dealing with the actions being taken by the Ministry of Education through BNM and the new Technical Training Program on Library Science. The report also approached the status of the School Libraries National System Act, the development of the on-line general vocabulary for the BNM and the expansion of the Ministry of Education’s institutional repository to provincial jurisdictions.

Other key topics, including the careful flexibilization of copyright laws and the impacts of such changes on libraries, archives and museums, were also discussed. The need to overhaul current Argentine copyright law to provide for fair use provisions was also approached.

Likewise, participants encouraged a broad dissemination of IFLA activities in Argentina in order to help raise consciousness among authorities and institutions that can approve grants to outstanding library professionals so they may attend IFLA annual congresses.

IFLA President visits the National Library of Argentina

In her stay in Argentina, IFLA President, Ingrid Parent, visited the National Library of Argentina where she met with its Director, Horacio González, and its Associate Director, Elsa Barber. Thereafter, in the Auditorium of the Book and Language, she offered a conference titled Reformulating information access: libraries on center stage. The lecture enjoyed simultaneous translation service. Dr. Parent took full advantage of the opportunity to meet with Argentine authorities from the country’s main library institutions and discuss the progress and challenges facing the library community of Argentina.

Meeting of the IFLA/LAC Standing Committee in Finland

The IFLA/LAC Standing Committee met in Helsinki on August 12 and 15 as part of the 78th IFLA Conference and General Assembly. In these meetings, committee members addressed the development of the BSLA programme and the regional ALP projects, among other topics. It was disclosed that IFLA/LAC is collaborating with the International Leaders Programme. Jorge Octavio Ruiz Vaca was selected to represent Latin America in this programme and shall work on the Open Access theme, using the Humanities and Social Sciences bibliography database “Humamindex.” The IFLA Multilingualism Programme, which aims to make all official IFLA documents available in the working languages—including Spanish and French—was also discussed.

Building Strong Library Associations (BSLA) workshop in the Federación Española de Sociedades de Archivistica, Biblioteconomia, Documentación y Museística (FESABID)

Libraries and librarians in the political agenda, financing sources and new members of professional associations were the topics discussed in the workshop organized by FESABID, (Spanish Federation of Associations of Archivists, Librarians and Museum Professionals), which was modeled on the IFLA BSLA programme. The workshop was led by Dr. Felipe Martinez, member of the IFLA Governing Board, in Barcelona, Spain, on October 3 and 4. The workshop aimed to offer a strategic focus for strengthening the capacity and sustainability of professional associations in the sector.

The programme consists of three modules:

Module 1. Libraries and librarians in the political agenda (Advocacy)
1. A basic mission: Advocacy for the profession
2. Roll up your sleeves: Let’s make a plan!
   Factors and challenges
   Support and communication plans
   Action plan and evaluation

Module 2. We need funds. How do we secure money? (Fundraising)
1. Let’s make a plan!
2. Where does our money come from currently?
3. How can we secure funding?

Module 3. New members of professional associations
1. Our associative culture
2. Do we really offer incentives to our members?
3. Don’t leave just yet! Strategies to retain new members

Reform of the Intellectual Property Right Act and the Book and Reading Promotion Act: Exceptions favoring libraries, archives and museums

Since April of this year, the ABGRA Sub-Commission of Intellectual Property, Information Access and Freedom of Expression, submitted the bill 11.723 addressing exceptions in favor of libraries with regard to intellectual property rights. The bill has been admitted to the parliamentary process in the Honorable House of Representatives of the National Congress.

The text of the bill represents a consensual view of the librarian community and information specialists, who are requesting modifications to current legislation on literary works reproduction. The modifications specifically seek exemption from paying royalties to authors or require their authorization to reproduce their works. The bill also contemplates modification of an article under the Book and Reading Promotion Act.

Read the entire text of the draft bill at: http://www.abgra.org.ar/documentos/pdf/Proyecto%20Bcas_7819-D-2010.pdf

The bill was drafted and presented in 2010 by the aforementioned ABGRA Sub-Commission to the Culture Commission of the House of Representatives, but it was unable to consider its discussion because of time constraints.

Argentine librarians request your support so that this bill is duly considered by the diverse commissions of the House of Representatives and it can ultimately be passed into law.
World Congress of the International Federation of Organizations for Reproduction Rights (IFRRO)

More than 200 delegates from diverse countries gathered in Buenos Aires, Argentina, October 22-25 for the 2012 IFRRO World Congress. The event saw lively debate and discussion regarding how IFRRO can meet the challenges for the future and respond to needs of its members and other interested parties.

The meeting included the IFRRO Business Model Forum (IBMF)/International Seminar on Wednesday, October 24, and concluded with a meeting of the Governors Board in the Annual General Meeting of IFRRO, on October 25. The main topic of the IBMF was: “Understanding the needs of users and delivery of results.” The session enjoyed contributions from Dr. Delia Lipzic (Universidad de Buenos Aires, Argentina), Mrs. Michel Woods (World Intellectual Property Organization), Mrs. Jenny Walker (independent consultant) and other leading IFRRO professionals, including Dr. Ingrid Parent.

The annual meeting gathered to focus on the topic: “Governance and Organizations for Reproduction Rights”

BSLA workshop in Argentina, April 21, 23-24 2012

ABGRA presented results from their member and non member survey. On April 23-24, the workshop continued in an atmosphere of active participation.

From the invited associations, two were absents because their provinces were involved in elections. Nevertheless, two Buenos Aires institutions, one of Juridical librarians and RECIARIA, took part in the workshop. The participation of the Biblioteca del Congreso de la Nación and of the Biblioteca Nacional was very good.

The librarians that participated in the seminar will train other librarians and this training will be assisted by ABGRA and IFLA/LAC in Rosario and Ana Maria in Chubut. These seminars will take place in May. The Colégio Professional de Bibliotecarios de San Juan will sponsor the cascade training in June and will have also the support of IFLA/LAC as a trainer. The Asociacion Civil de Bibliotecarios Juridicos will offer an afternoon for the BSLA during its National Congress and in the next October or November will organize a two days seminar in the Ministerio da Justicia (Buenos Aires).

Elisete Melo (IFLA/LAC Regional Office) was in Argentina and assisted with the seminar logistics.

PERU

Last month, Peru’s National Library launched the program “Semillas para el Desarrollo” (Seeds for Development) which aims to build libraries in marginalized zones of the country. The new libraries will have the support of the local governments and the private sector. Its principal objective is to serve as innovative centers that focus in the local development.

Ramón Mujica, Director of the Perú’s National Library, was the principal voice in the opening event of the program. His speech talked about the way libraries are directed by the National System based on what he learned in Beyond Access’ event ‘Local Alternatives for Global Development’.

Among the assistants were Peru’s Culture Minister, the President of the Peruvian Municipalities Association, the President of the Entrepreneurs for Education Association, the General Director of Baratz and the President of the Directive Council for Education.

The event also had the participation of more than 250 mayors of different municipalities in Perú.

Mujica made a summary of some of the changes in human history that have contributed in different ways to the development of knowledge such as Gutenberg’s printing press, the wheel, electricity and telecommunications. Regarding the latter, he highlighted the fact that ICT have changed the significance of libraries.

Mujica called the attention on the fact that libraries contribute to the meeting of eight development goals:

- Eradication of extreme poverty and hunger: with the use of internet, communities have connected and the different sectors of society such as fishers and growers have seen their lives improve due to the knowledge they have acquired to make their products more competitive in the global market.
- Achieve the elementary education: thanks to the technological innovation, libraries have become new learning spaces. Different public South American libraries have different programs after school for kids that need to improve their academic development.
- Promote the equity, the autonomy of women, reduce child death and improve the mother health: in public libraries de... bates and meeting are arranged in which women discuss their professional opportunities. Libraries serve as spaces for medical consultation and for sexual education.

➢ Guarantee the environment sustainability: country farmers from around the world share their knowledge in libraries and their ancient practices are shared with the communities in these places. Libraries prevent the use of dangerous chemistries and polluting substances.

➢ Encourage a global action towards development: through the Access of information, the social inclusion, the rescue of traditions, the integration of the community, etc. Libraries contribute with global development.
