ABSTRACTS

As the ASEAN’s commitment envisioned by ASEAN Leaders, the ASEAN Community shall be built by 2015. The ASEAN Community comprises three pillars, namely the ASEAN Political-Security Community (APSC), ASEAN Economic Community (AEC) and the ASEAN Socio-Cultural Community (ASCC). The ASEAN Charter call for an onward looking region, living in prosperity, peace and stability, bonded together in partnership and dynamic development. The ASEAN Charter further stipulates that one of the purposes of ASEAN is “to develop human resources through closer cooperate on in education on and life-long learning, and in science and technology, for the empowerment of the peoples of ASEAN and for the strengthening of the ASEAN Community”

There are many action plans were set to accelerate the achievement of the ASEAN charter on the purposes to develop human resources through closer cooperate on in education. ASEAN Roadmap for the Attainment of the Millennium Development Goals is the good one example. It is the action plan from the ASEAN’s leader declaration on the Attainment of the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) which clearly show support for a knowledge based society. The roadmap is as a framework for collective actions amongst ASEAN countries to accelerate the achievement of the MDGs.

In order to accelerate the achievement of the key factor “Knowledge”, the Parliamentary Libraries in this region have to prepare for an important role and cooperate more. The executives of the Secretariat of the House of Representatives and the National Assembly Library of Thailand are also aware of the changing environment and want to accelerate the achievement of the key factor “Knowledge”, and prepare in many ways. One important way of supporting this key factor performance is sharing knowledge, information and best practices amongst the parliamentary libraries of ASEAN countries.

The National Assembly Library of Thailand had a good chance to share knowledge, information and best practices with the Republic of the Union of Myanmar, one of the ASEAN countries. In April and May, 2013, the National Assembly Library of Thailand cooperated with IPU project on the mission to support the Parliamentary Library, Research and Information Service. Secretary General, Mr.Suwichag Nakwatcharachai, had approved two activities to support the mission. The first activity was the approval for the librarian of the National Assembly Library of Thailand to participate the mission at the Hluttaw Library of Myanmar in Nay Pyi Taw during 1–11 April, 2013, and the second one is the approval on the study visit of a delegation of Myanmar staff to the National Assembly Library of Thailand from 6 –10 May, 2013. During those two activities there were sharing and learning on knowledge, information and best practices from each other in many ways such as the development of a collection management, services, roles, functions and organisational structure, internet research and presentation of information to support MPs skills.

These activities will bring benefit, good relation and cooperation between the two countries and ASEAN Community. Most of all, that will contribute to benefit, good relations and cooperation between the parliamentary libraries all over the world.

Introduction

Nowadays the “ASEAN Community” has become a key factor influencing the trends and personnel development of ASEAN Community Countries in various aspects. Human development is specified as one of characteristics in the blueprint of ASEAN Socio-cultural Community (ASCC), one of the three pillars ASEAN Community. That means ensuring the integration of education priorities into ASEAN’s development agenda and creating a knowledge based society.
ASEAN Roadmap for the Attainment of the Millennium Development Goal is the action plan from the ASEAN's leader declaration on the Attainment of the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) which clearly show support for a knowledge based society. The roadmap is as a framework for collective actions amongst ASEAN countries to accelerate the achievement of the MDGs which will focus on five key factors. One of the said key factors is “Knowledge”, which is focused on:

- information Sharing on the MDGs by sharing existing MDGs knowledge and information amongst ASEAN Member States,
- sharing of best practices by developing practical manuals on best practices for MDGs achievement within ASEAN and providing links to best practice examples outside ASEAN,
- promotion of researches by facilitating research into the potential impact of economic integration on vulnerable communities in ASEAN Member States.

The Parliamentary Libraries in this region have to prepare for an important role and cooperate more in order to accelerate the achievement of the key factor “Knowledge”. The executives of the Secretariat of the House of Representatives and the National Assembly Library of Thailand are also aware of the changing environment and want to accelerate the achievement of the key factor “Knowledge”, and prepare in many ways. One important way of supporting this key factor performance is sharing knowledge, information and best practices amongst the parliamentary libraries of ASEAN countries.

In April and May, 2013, the National Assembly Library of Thailand had a good chance to cooperate in sharing on knowledge and best practice with the Republic of the Union of Myanmar, one of the ASEAN Countries. What had been shared and learned?

1. Learned how the National Assembly has organized the Library and Research services
2. Opportunity to understand how the National Assembly Library collects and provides information about pending issues and legislation in a comprehensive manner to facilitate the parliamentary work of the members of the National Assembly.
3. Shared more knowledge about the online digital library, which is open not only to the members but also to the public. Although the service provided to the Union Assembly is at present a Library service, it is planned to provide Research Services in the future, so the staff would also like to understand more about the work of the Academic Service.
4. Learned how the libraries and archives of the other organisation operate and conduct services
5. Learned more about the culture of each other to make good understanding and cooperating

Suggestion

1. Setting up the work plans and policies for the future
2. Firmly establish the goal of a long-term overall development plan
3. Reduce the gap on ICT (digital divide)
4. Find out the resolution on language barrier
5. Strengthen cooperation on services to support legislative work especially on resources, research and ICT
6. Take up development project to provide appropriate Library, Research and ICT training at global standard
7. Have a close cooperation with all parliamentary agencies and departments, other public sector state bodies, other libraries and expert foundations as well as international organisations, such as Inter-Parliamentary Union, International Federation of Library Associations (IFLA), and regional organizations, such as (The Association of Parliamentary Librarians of Asia and the Pacific (APLAP).
8. Conduct more staff exchange programs between ASEAN Community countries and other regions
Conclusion

As the theme of the pre-conference of this year “Making better laws - the unique role of parliamentary library and research services”, the most important factor to reach the goal is the close cooperation between the parliamentary library. At present, cooperation between the libraries is not only the cooperating and collaborating on collection building and resource sharing but also the cooperating for access to world-wide information and global resource sharing. Cooperation between IPU, Hluttaw Library of Myanmar and National Assembly Library of Thailand is one of the good example. In entering the ASEAN community in 2015, the continuous development and cooperation of the National Parliamentary Library of member countries will definitely have contribution to the progress of human civilization in line with the blueprint of ASEAN Socio-cultural Community (ASCC), one of the three pillars ASEAN Community.
