Delivering parliamentary library and research services in an interconnected world

Title: Detects illegal border crossings in the EU (January – June 2015)

Graphic Type: Map

Caption: Detects illegal border crossings in the EU (January – June 2015)

Credit (Copyright): © European Union, EPRS

Description: The map shows the routes of illegal entries into the EU during the first six months of 2015. For each route, the box shows the number of entries and the top three nationalities of migrants. The boxes below show the recent changes, in numbers, on the most frequent routes: Eastern Mediterranean, Western Balkans and Central Mediterranean. The other routes are not shown as the figures do not indicate major changes in the numbers of illegal entries.

Source of Data Description: Frontex

Geographical Coverage: EU Member States

Documents: Recent migration flows to the EU

Interoperability for a modern public sector

Plenary at a glance by Davies, Ron; European Parliamentary Research Service. 2015. English.

The electronic services of European public administrations need to interoperate to support citizens and businesses studying or working in other Member States, as well as to reduce costs and realise efficiencies for governments. A renewed EU programme for 2016-2020 proposes to continue support for interoperable e-government services, emphasising open data and the re-use of digital solutions.
