Should we submit a PC project request for funds?
To date we have not asked for project funds or propose a project to the PC. However, a possible project is described below. This was discussed via email during the year and it maps very well to the new Executive Director’s Vision. It is also represented in our Action Plan for 2016:

Potential Project:
A project aiming for an analysis of the scope of social science issues represented in the IFLA Library, the online repository of IFLA conference proceedings. (Kayo reported that she did a search across past conference papers and came up with over 70 that mention Social Science)

Namibia Satellite Conference, 2015 Report - Chiku
A very successful Social Science Library Section Satellite conference with over 125 attendees from 6 countries was held in Windhoek, Namibia in August 11-12, 2015. Several SSL-SC members attended and participated in the conference. Chiku would like to have the proceedings published in a special issue of IFLA Journal, despite the fact that the papers presented will be published in IFLA Library. Kayo and Chiku will meet with Steven Witt, IFLA Journal editor, to discuss the possibility. The special journal issue could include how the library science students worked in the conference and how young professionals worked alongside more experienced ones from Namibia and other countries in various steps in preparation for the conference and during the conference. A major outcome of the conference is that the students who participated got some international exposure and the collaborating groups were very pleased with the entire programme.

IFLA WLIC 2017 WROCLAW Conference – all

At the end of the Business Meeting some participants remained to discuss possible SSL plans for the 2017 conference in Poland. They were: Kayo Dendra, Sylvia Piggott, Debra Cheney, Lynne Rudasill, Celia Emmelhainz, Johanna Lahikainen.

Celia Emmelhainz, a speaker at the Tuesday programme and an Anthropologist-Librarian working in California posed a possible topic (report included below):

Proposal for a one-day offsite workshop during the IFLA 2017 in Wrocław, Poland (19-25 August, 2017)
Sponsored by the Social Science Libraries Section of IFLA

Ideas:
- We discussed development of an ethnographic toolkit with examples of projects
- We also discussed and decided in favor of an offsite workshop, that would cover much of the same content in a more interactive format.
- If needed, we could shorten to long workshop/session, but ideal to have a whole day

Planning:
Involvement of Sylvia, Johanna, Celia, Lynne, Kayo, and Debora

Proposed day:

9:00 am (30 min) Why we use ethnographic methods for library assessment and outreach

9:30 am Asking anthropological questions / thinking big (30 min presentation)
Break out into groups and have librarians practice generating big-scale questions for sample public, national, school, or university library contexts (30 mins)
10:45 am   Coffee break

11:00 am   Ethnographic methods: interviews (30 min)
            Exercise on interviews and focus groups – have people develop interview questions based on earlier scenarios or their workplace (30 min)

12:00 pm   Lunch break

1:00 pm    Ethnographic methods: participation and observation (30 min)
            Quick exercise on observation, mapping, workplace ethnography (15 min)

1:45 pm    Ethnographic methods: patron participation (30 mins)
            Exercise on user mapping, photos, and research diaries (30 min)

2:45 pm    Coffee break?

3:00 pm    Interpreting the data (30 min presentation)
            Break out into groups and practice analyzing images or text for common themes (30 mins)

4:00 pm    Turning ethnography back into community engagement (30 mins)
            Final session rounds out the arc from asking questions to applying methods to interpreting results and back to using the ideas you’ve gained to engage with target communities

4:30 pm    Adjourn

Next steps:
1. Edit the proposal where warranted.
2. Confirm, via email, with SC members that this topic is supported by them and get their input.
3. Contact Andrew Asher, an expert in this methodology, to explore possibility of his involvement and cost.
4. As encouraged by Helen Mandel and other officers, engage our SC members in the planning and execution of the programme.
5. Set out timeline by when each aspect of the programme must be completed and assign responsibility.
6. Create a communication plan for informing SC members as well as the IFLA community.
7. If Asher is not available, identify an expert to deliver the opening 30 minute paper.
8. Contact IFLA to clarify the workshop submission process.
9. Lynne will contact her network to look for a co-sponsor/partner in Wroclaw, Poland,
10. Kayo will contact vendors who could serve as co-sponsors of the workshop.

NB – seems there is no need for a “Call for Papers” with the above format – perhaps there is a need to find experts who can lead some of the activities.

Respectfully submitted by
Sylvia Piggott
