

LIBER Digital Humanities working group

...

Lotte Wilms & Andreas Degkwitz

What is the plan?

We will work in teams to build a knowledge network of European librarians working in digital humanities. We will be focusing on four subjects:

- Enhancement of skills in the field of digital humanities for librarians;
- Cooperation and relationship between libraries and research communities;
- Roles of libraries in digital humanities and awareness raising in academic libraries;

What will we do?

- Mailing list: <https://goo.gl/1iGJUh>
- FAQs for librarians in digital humanities
- Tip sheets with tutorials on digital humanities' methods
- Zotero group:
https://www.zotero.org/groups/liber_digital_humanities_working_group
- Report on the state of digital humanities in European research libraries
- Two workshops
- Liaise with research infrastructures such as DARIAH and CLARIN

Who do we need?

We need librarians with an interest in the digital humanities to provide us with

- case studies,
- best practices,
- tips,
- questions
- and feedback.

We do ask that your organisation is a LIBER member (<http://libereurope.eu/join>).

How can you join?

Send a message to lotte.wilms@kb.nl and andreas.degkwitz@ub.hu-berlin.de or add your details here: <https://goo.gl/p3xAoc>.

More info: <https://libereurope.eu/committees/reshaping/working-group-digital-humanities>