

IFLA
2014
LYON

CUSTOMER RELATIONSHIP MANAGEMENT: information application for parliamentary services

Christiane Coelho

Customer Relationship Management: Application for Parliamentary Information Services

Contents

- Background
- Overview of the problem
- Customer Relationship Management (CRM)
- Relationship Management – Project
- Results

Customer Relationship Management: Application for Parliamentary Information Services

Dimensions

- Members of Parliament
 - representational role
 - make decisions
- Society
 - make decisions
 - accountability
 - Education

Customer Relationship Management: Application for Parliamentary Information Services

Resources

- Organized processes and procedures
- Priorities
- Policies
- Staff
- Research tools

Customer Relationship Management: Application for Parliamentary Information Services

Background

- 1823 – Library and Archives
- 1971– Center for Documentation and Information (Cedi)
- 90´s – Multiple Channels
- 2000 – Strategic Management Plan
- 2004 – Relationship Management

Customer Relationship Management: Application for Parliamentary Information Services

Overview of the problem

- Multiple channels
- Dispersion of services
- Lack of common patterns
- Lack of policies
- Redundancies
- Time consuming

Customer Relationship Management: Application for Parliamentary Information Services

Solution

Relationship Management Project

Obejctive: Establish a corporate model of governance for the relationship with the society and Representatives.

Customer Relationship Management: Application for Parliamentary Information Services

- Objectives
 - Define Competencies
 - Design a general process map
 - Eliminate redundancies
 - Integrated channels

IFLA
2014
LYON

Customer Relationship Management: Application for Parliamentary Information Services

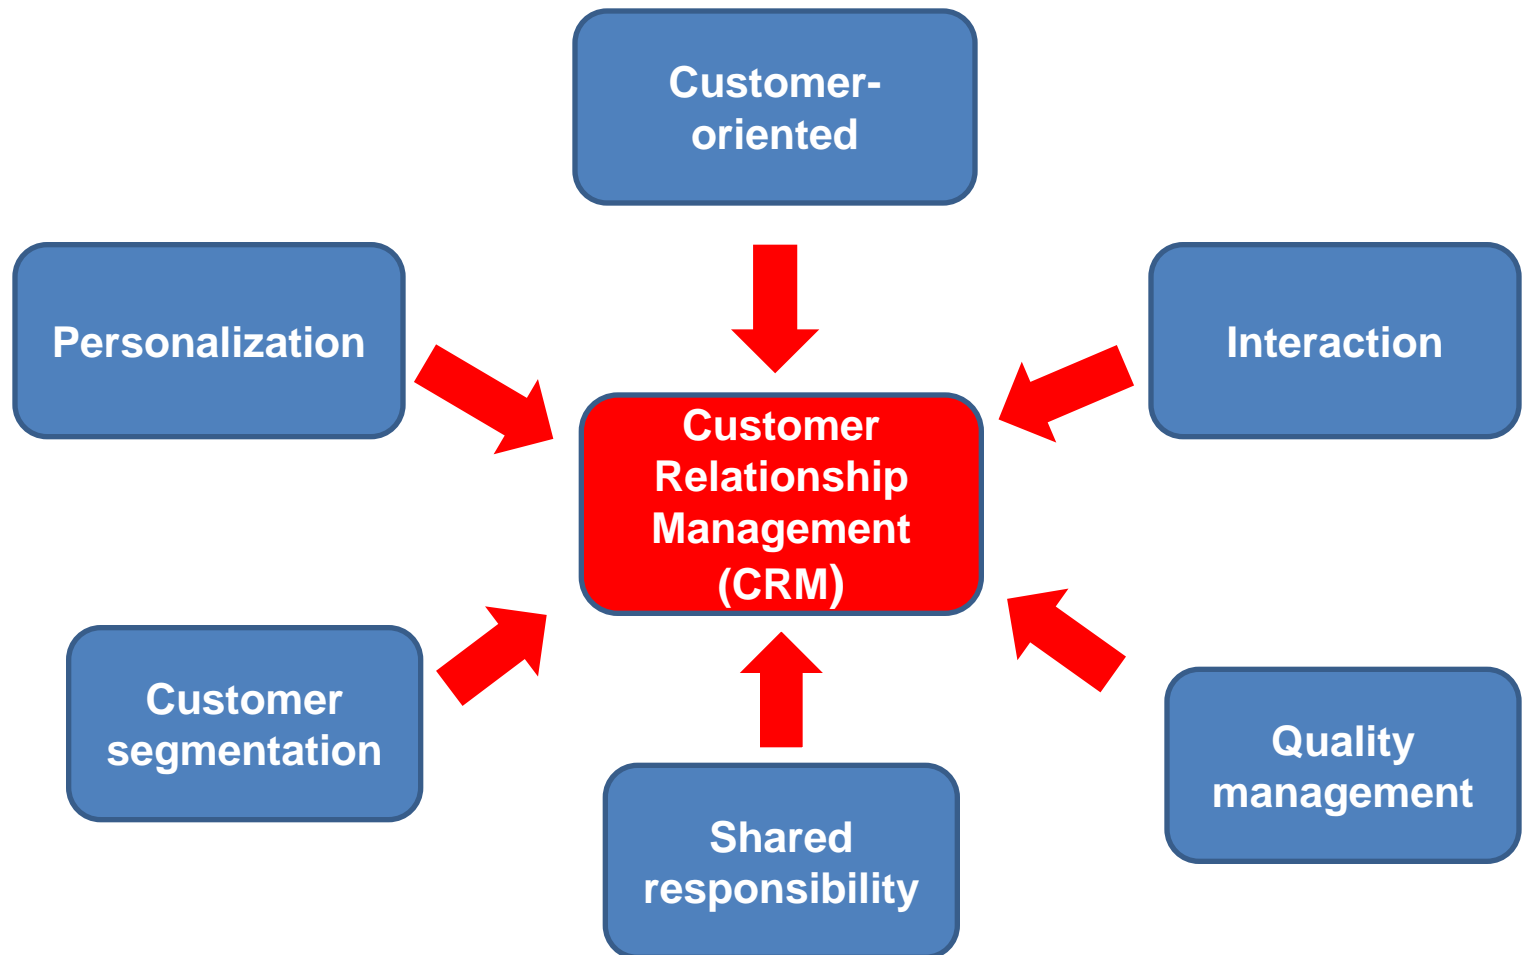

Project

- Team

- Chief Legislative Office (sponsor)
- Ombudsman
- Committee Department
- Secretariat of Communication
- Center for Documentation and Information - Cedi (management)
- Tachygraphy Sector
- Project Advisory Office

Customer Relationship Management: Application for Parliamentary Information Services

Customer Relationship Management: Application for Parliamentary Information Services

Project

- Methodology
 - Project Management Institute (PMI)
 - Focus group (problems identification)
 - Mapping (types of interaction, clients, resources, technology, rules, official documentation, policies...)
- Central Problem
 - Lack of management, organization and standards

Customer Relationship Management: Application for Parliamentary Information Services

- Types of interactions mapped
 - ✓ Information Requests (Law 12.527/11)
 - ✓ Denunciations and Complaints
 - ✓ Political Expressions
 - ✓ Suggestions and Compliments
- Levels of Interactions
 - ✓ First level (quick)
 - ✓ Second level (complex)
 - ✓ Third Level (sensitive)

Customer Relationship Management: Application for Parliamentary Information Services

Multiple channels

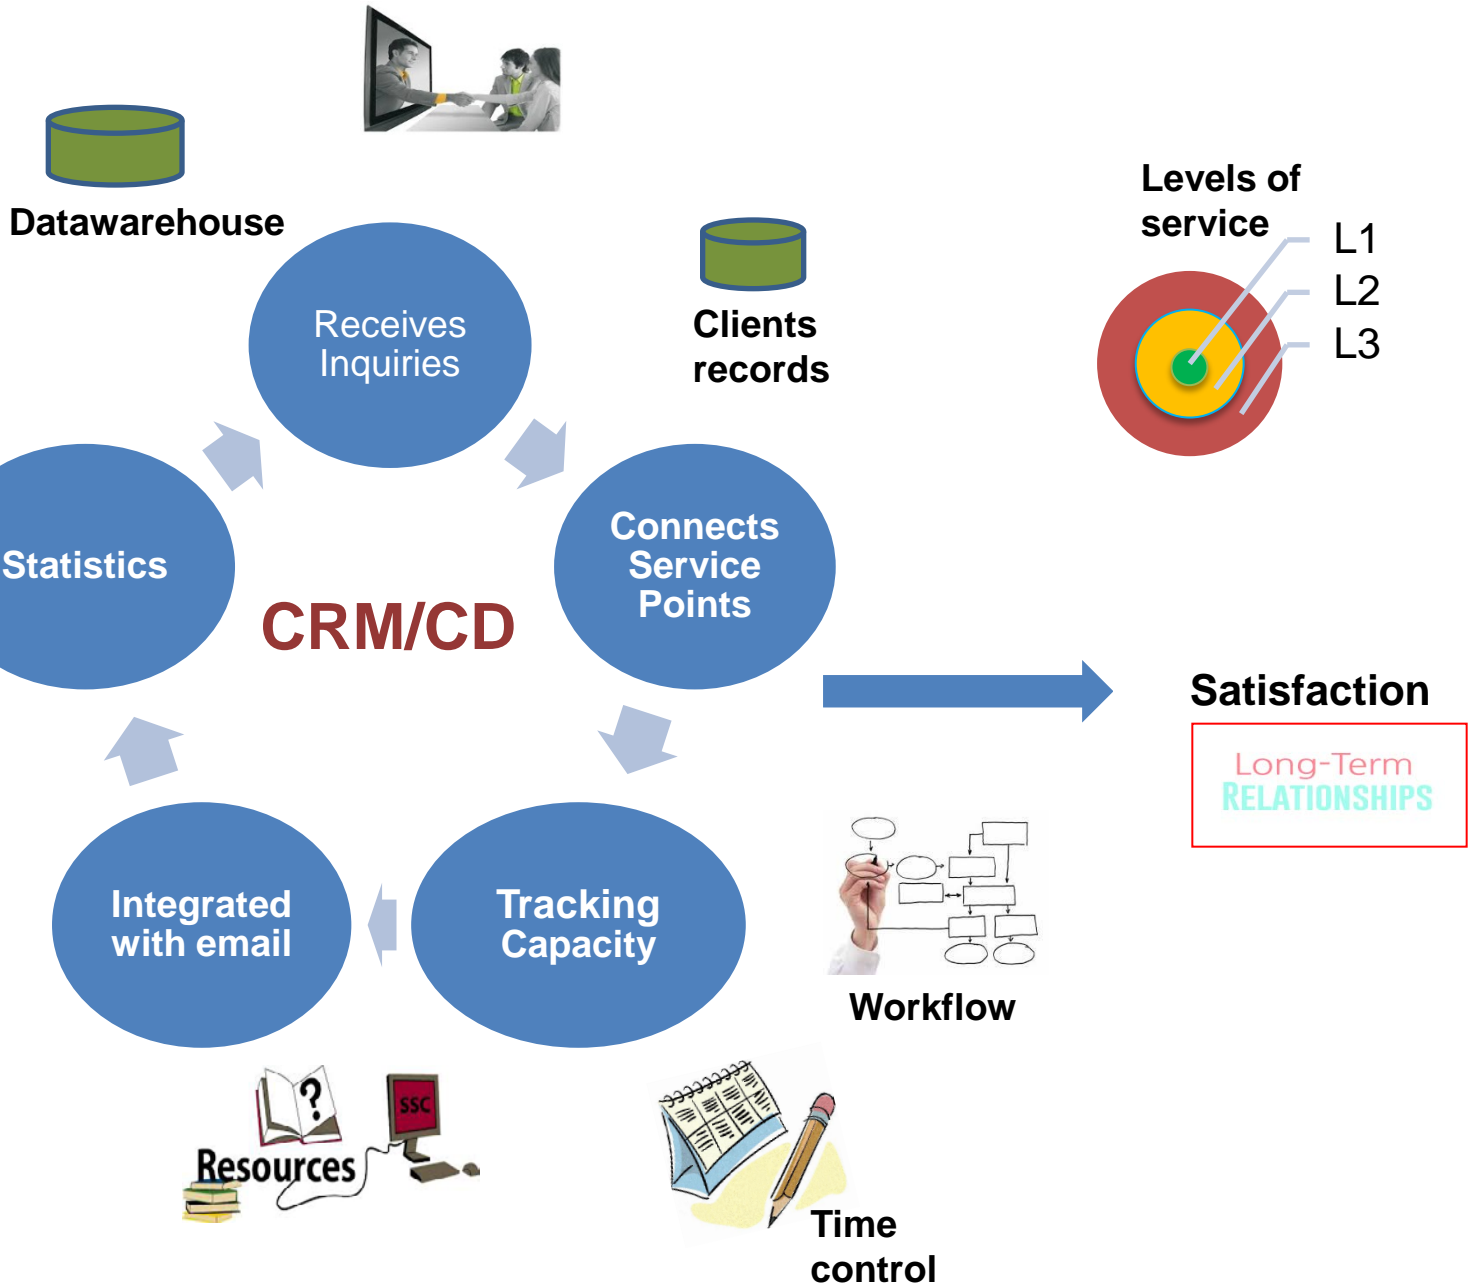

Customer Relationship Management: Application for Parliamentary Information Services

Inquiry Management System (Siate)

Datawarehouse

Receives Inquiries

Clients records

Levels of service
L1
L2
L3

Statistics

CRM/CD

Connects Service Points

Satisfaction

Long-Term RELATIONSHIPS

Integrated with email

Tracking Capacity

Workflow

Resources

Time control

IFLA
2014
LYON

Customer Relationship Management: Application for Parliamentary Information Services

Results

- Relationship Management Act
- Citizen Information Service (SIC)
- Relationship Management Committee
- New process maps
- CRM System Requirements
- CRM Acquisition Project

Customer Relationship Management: Application for Parliamentary Information Services

Important Facts

- Communication
- Sponsor's involvement
- Professionals with different background

IFLA
2014
LYON

THANK YOU!

Christiane Coelho Paiva
christiane.paiva@camara.leg.br

IFLA
2014
LYON