Summary of the 'social agenda' initiatives

- Since 2016, the Library of the Chamber of Deputies has been focusing on actions, projects and services that go way beyond its institutional duties taking into consideration its broad social reach.
- This 'social agenda' aims at marketing to internal and external customers a social relevant profile to the library's products and services whenever possible. Our goal is to promote a perception of a library mindful of social demands, diversity and democratization.
- The 'social agenda' meets the United Nations' 2030 agenda, reaffirming the Chamber of Deputies Library commitment to such initiative.

Author Talks

- This initiative happen in a monthly basis since January of 2017
- Our goal is bringing in a local author, with emphasis on female authors and/or authors from Brasilia's poorer communities, and promoting a gathering with the public, giving him/her a chance to portray his/her work and explain a writer's occupation to the audience.

Human Talks

- The Human Library initiative consists of hosting a gathering between an audience and someone willing to tell a life story in an intimate fashion.
- The Human Library project is originated in Copenhagen, Denmark in the year of 2000 as an initiative developed the by the NGO Stop the Violence.

Human Talks

The Library Talks

- The idea is bringing professionals to the library environment willing to share knowledge on technical subjects, social and/or cultural themes. For instance, the first edition focused on the ONU 2030 Agenda. The second edition debated the importance of Prison Libraries.

Ursula and other works - Maria Firmina dos Reis

The Edições Câmara has released a collection "Ursula and other works" by the author Maria Firmina dos Reis. Work of this type was ignored for more than a century and a process of continuous access control of attempts from the 1970s.

In addition to the most published text, the novel Ursula, we added the abolitionist tale The Slave and the Indian Gupeva, and her meeting of poems Cantos by the Sea, all for their literary quality.

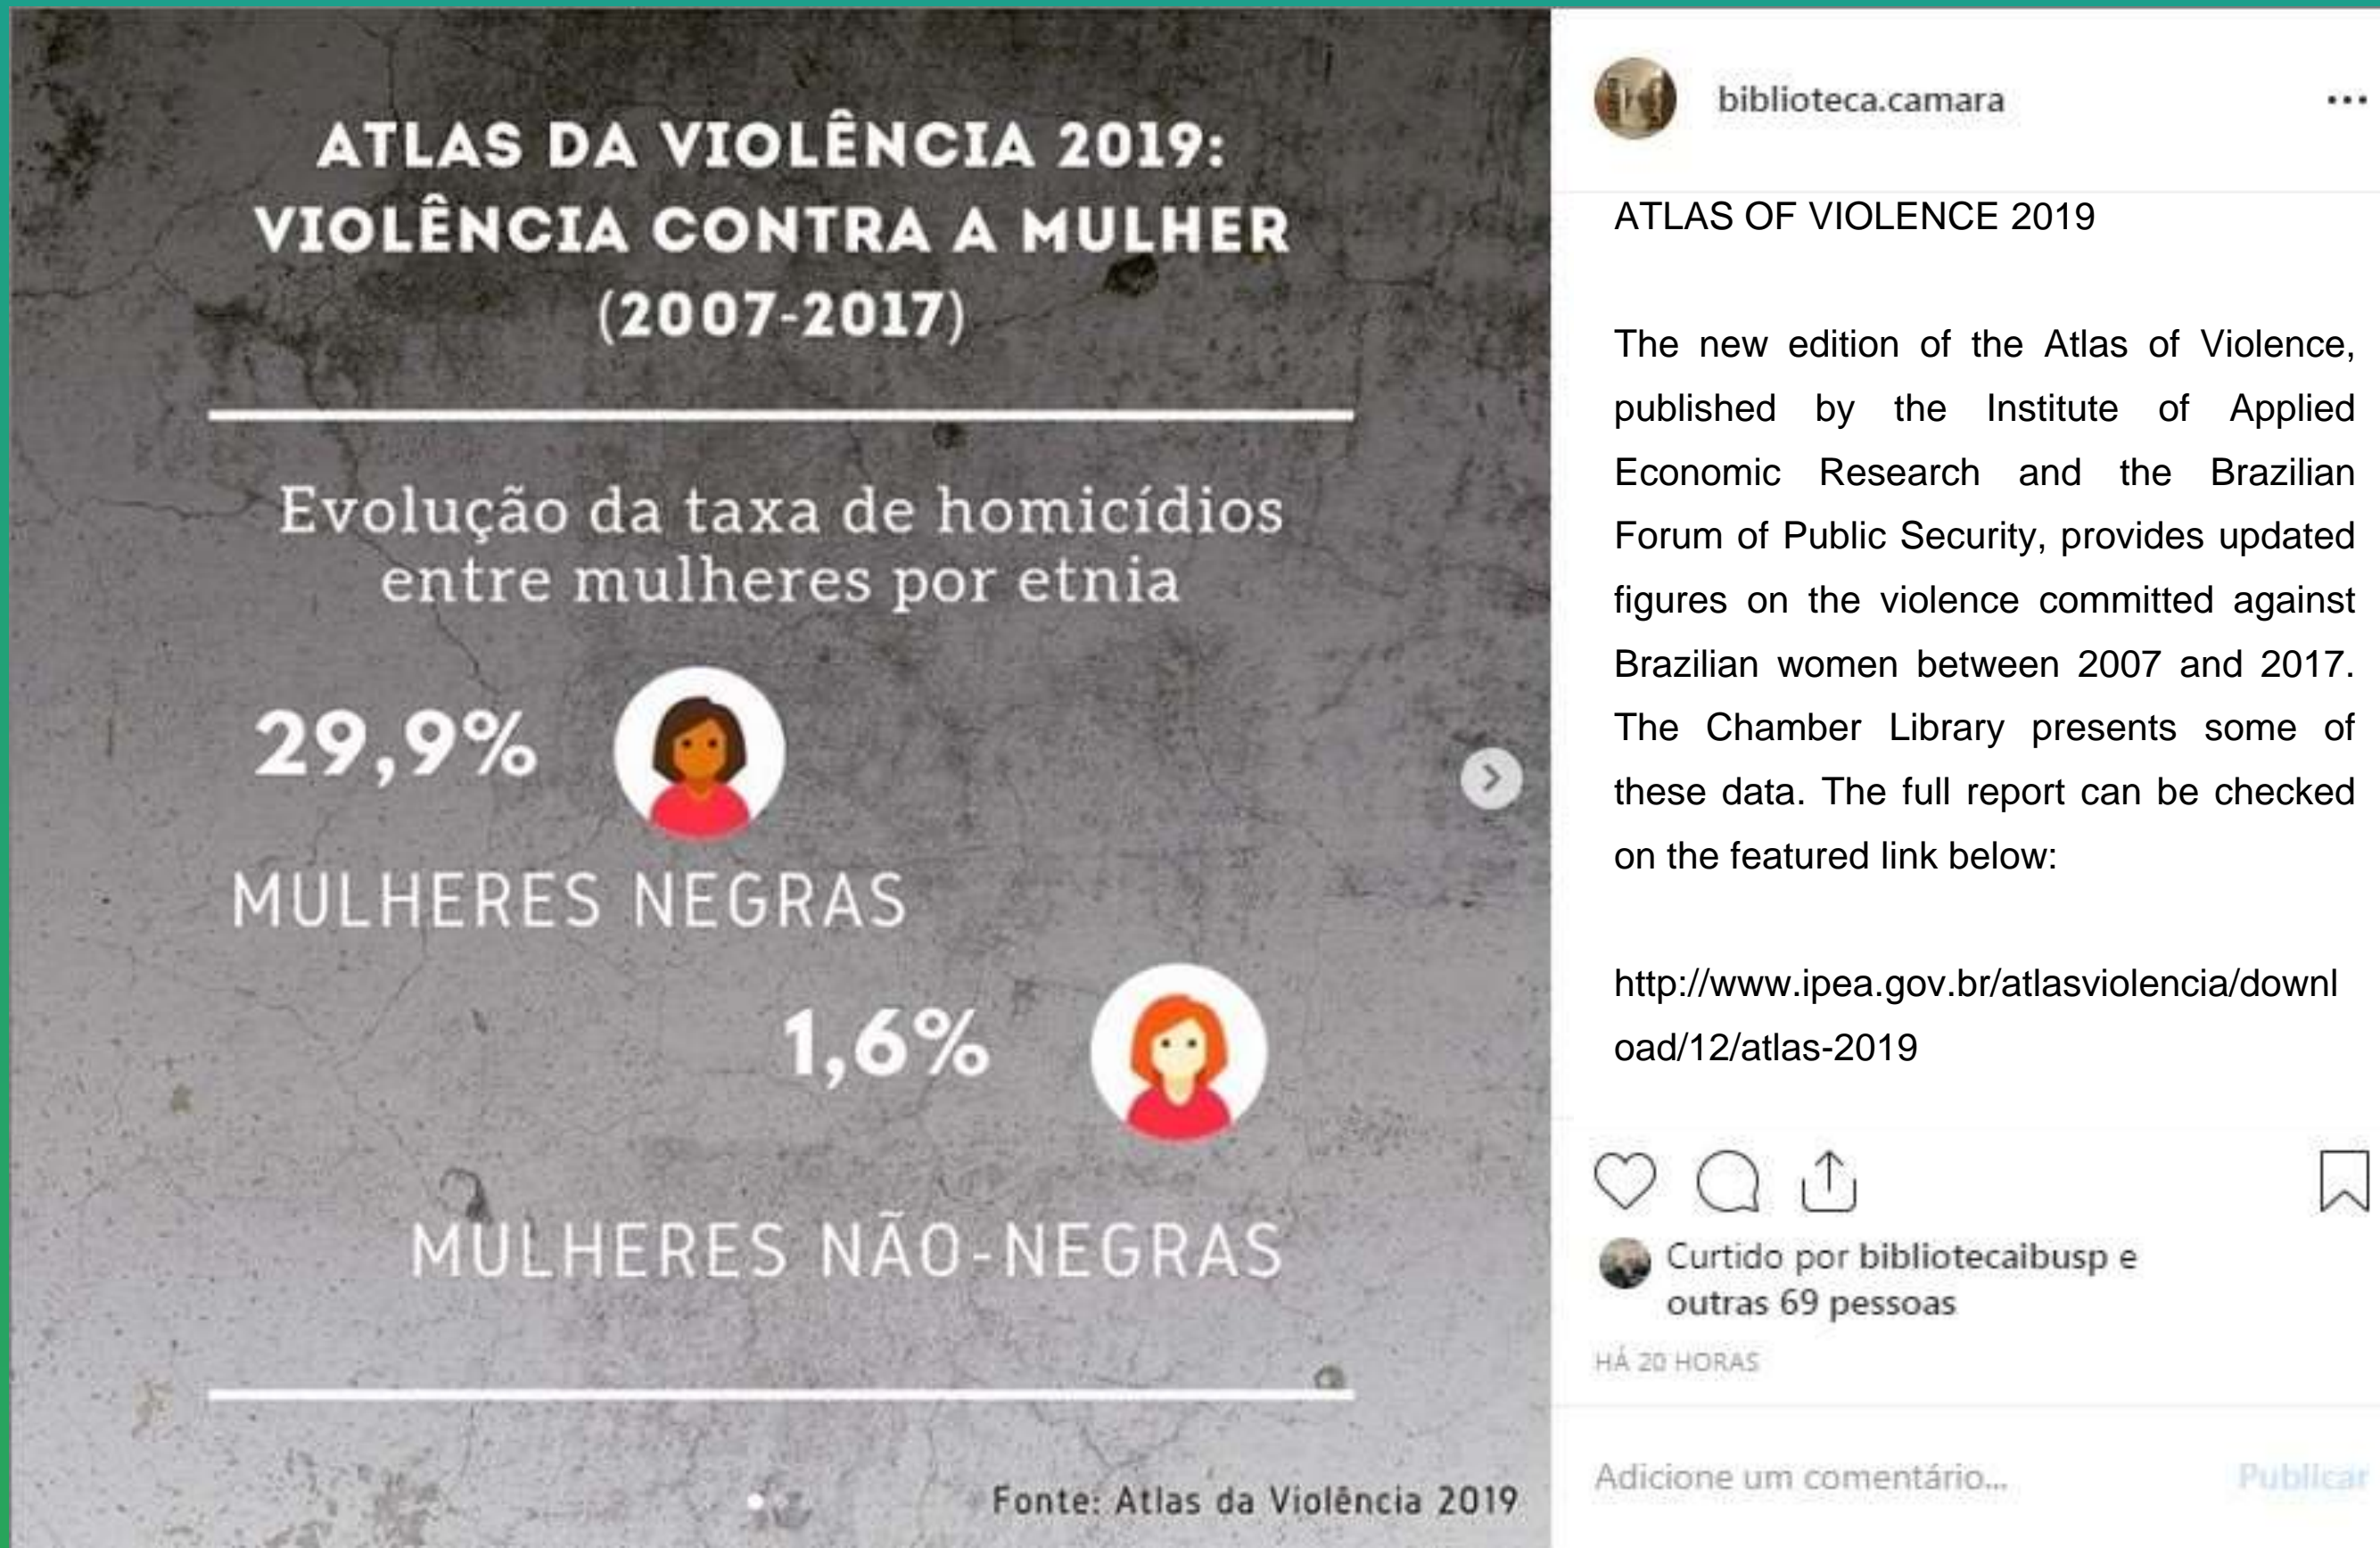

The work is available for free download:
